

John Robinson to George Washington, September 14, 1755, 19th-century transcription by William B. Sprague, Letters to Washington and Accompanying Papers. Published by the Society of the Colonial Dames of America. Edited by Stanislaus Murray Hamilton.

FROM THE HON. MR. SPEAKER ROBINSON.

Sept. 14. 1755.

DEAR SIR,

I received your favor by the Express and much approve of the method you propose of supplying the men with necessaries, and doubt not but the Committee will readily agree to it at our next meeting when I shall mention it to them.¹ As to the other matters you mention I am satisfied they will appear so reasonable upon consideration to the Committee that they will not hesitate about them as they know very well it is not designed from sordid or lucrative views. You may depend upon my representing them in the strongest and clearest light I am able, for

I am with unfeigned truth, Dear Sir, Yr sincere friend & servt. JOHN ROBINSON.

¹ See Washington's letter of September 11, 1755, Ford's Writings of Washington, vol. i. p. 186.